Sean and Teen Esteem delivered a stimulating, age-appropriate, and educational assembly that addressed the issues of online behavior and cyberbullying to over 400 students. By using multiples types of media (testimonials, Vine clips, memes etc.), Sean was able to capture the students' attention and guide them through a conversation on how one should conduct themselves in the cybersphere, as well as in their day-to-day, face-to-face interactions. I would recommend Sean and his presentation to any Middle School seeking to put on an engaging assembly that tackles what is perhaps the most serious social issue facing today's youth.
